CLASS

OF '44

SENIOR

The activities of the class of '44 got underway in November when Zaga succeeded in leading its presidential candidate, Arthur Sack, to the foremost office of the senior class. Competing with Zaga were two illustrious, but disappointed, parties. Dood-It and Jam-Good.

Shortly after the elections, seniors were floored by the Spectra's announcement; All pictures must be taken by November 30. So busy class members trekked to the photographer until well into December.

Girls will be girls, especially the capable senior girls who gave the feminine touch to one of the late-season pep assemblies. South was guided into the auditorium by attractive, business-like usherettes, and mothers of the school's grid stars were introduced to the student body.

Arthur Sack, president

Mr. Percy Churm, Miss Dorothy Long, and Mr. Jacob Brady, advisers

Marilyn Lustig, secretary

South highly honored the soon-to-be departing seniors by setting aside for them at the Thanksgiving day football game with Union. So, all together, the class of '44 cheered wildly as they watched the last game they were to see as students.

On Fridays — except when they forgot — seniors flashed the class colors, light blue and dark blue, on timid underclassmen. The colors were voted best from a list which was suggested by the co-chairmen of the color committee, Geraldine Murphy and Marilyn Willis.

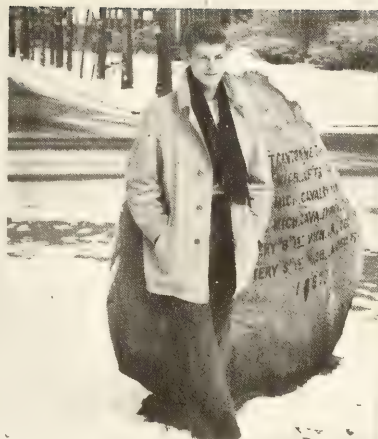

Seniors said goodbye to 26 of their classmates on January 20 when mid-semester graduation exercises were held. President Andrews of Junior college was the speaker chosen for the event.

When good fellows get together, as they did for the senior mixer at South Congregational church on March 1, a wonderful time is had by all! One of the main events of the evening was the introduction of the class song, which was written by Mary Jane Mixer. After the banquet, 208 seniors marched back to school for the South-Ottawa basketball game.

OFFICERS

March 17 and 18 were days of triumph for the class when South students and their parents hailed the advent of the senior play "Seventeen." William Barnes, in the leading role of Willie Baxter, capably portrayed the trials and tribulations of Booth Larkington's teen-age character. Acting honors also went to Mary Ellen Johnson, Roger Gosling, Martha Bullock, and Phyllis Perry.

Senior girls once again took a hand in the classes activities on May 6 when they sponsored and worked out the details of the annual Damsels' Drag. To complete the job-well-done, they dragged the senior boys with them.

Robert Catlin, vice-president

Richard Dinkel, Gerald Scott, and Dorothy Dunn, student advisers

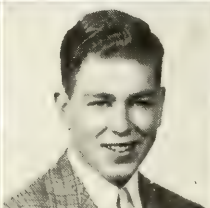

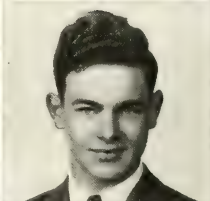

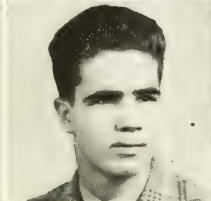

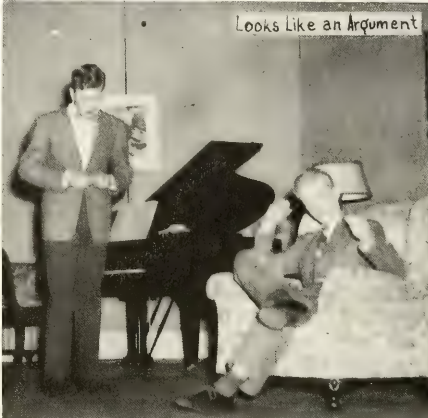

Lorraine Anderson, treasurer

"Build Today for a Better Tomorrow," was the very appropriate motto, suggested by the motto committee under the chairmanship of Shirley Schief.

Novelty song-and-dance routines, and tunes of today and yester-year were the keynote when talented seniors entertained parents and friends at the class day revue on June 9. The theme of class day depicted a V-Mail letter written to a certain Tom who was drafted before his graduation. Also, on June 9, gold key awards were presented to the ten seniors who were outstanding in extra-curricular work during their years at South. Other honors, trophy cups, were bestowed to the best all-around senior boy and girl.

When June 16 arrived, all the members of the class of 44 suddenly realized that they had come to the end of their schooldays and that this time on the stage, commencement, would be their last. Each one, when his name was called, walked proudly in cap and gown up to Mr. Corryell to receive his diploma and so with graduation, they said goodbye to South.

JUNIORS

M. Grooters, R. Hondorp

Mr. Buckham, Mrs. Crossman

As soon as the senior elections were over, the juniors started their campaigning which lasted a week. Those elected were James Lehan, president; Len Stormzand, vice-president; Betty Lou Ward, secretary; and Phyllis Hoekstra, treasurer. With the help of their student and faculty advisers, Marjorie Grooters and Roger Hondorp, Mrs. Marguerite Crossman and Mr. Harold Buckham, the class proved to be very capable.

Among the activities of the class was the annual J-Hop, March 25, of which Bob Carrier and Mary Pat Nickolson were co-chairmen, and the Junior-Senior prom, headed by Don Cole.

The juniors helped to put the bond drive over the top by raising $64,000 and won inter-class competition by defeating their nearest rivals, the seniors, by $29,000.

SOPHOMORES

2nd row Dexter Holst, Joan Bishop, Viola DeGraff, Marvin Switzer

"Marching along together" in school life and out side activities was the theme of the sophomore class. Dues were collected early in the semester and a dance was given early in June. Meetings were held every other Tuesday to plan for the dance, hayrides, and most important of all the fourth war loan drive. After leading the school in the sale of war bonds for most of the drive, the sophomores ended up in third place.

The activities of this cooperative class were directed by energetic officers Dexter Holst, president; Don Edgerly, vice-president; Joan Bishop secretary; Viola DeGraff, treasurer; Nadine Miller Dick Haggii, and Marvin Switzer, student advisers; and Miss Elda Koehn and Miss Dorothy Williams, faculty advisers.

After one of the worst seasons in its history, South started on the comeback trail under the able leadership of their new coach, "Jake" Brady. The Trojans got off to a fast start by trouncing a game but inept Godwin aggregation. The following week end they traveled to Flint, and although they were beaten, they showed a bang-up defensive game in holding the power laden Flint team to seven points

Next they bowled over a favored Creston team in a hotly contested battle.

The following week a tilt with Catholic loomed as one of the most important of the season, and Grand Rapids fans witnessed some of the finest football displayed here in many years. Going into the fourth quarter it looked as if South didn't have a chance; but by resorting to a passing attack, the South eleven all but brought disaster to a here-to-fore undefeated Catholic team.

The next two weeks the Trojans had an easy time of it knocking off Tech and Ottawa. After two postponements, South was upset by a determined Central eleven; but the season was brought to a smashing climax in the traditional Thanksgiving day game, when South defeated Union before a large homecoming crowd, and regained the red jug for the first time in three years.

BASKETBALL

With only three returning lettermen, coach "Pat" Patterson developed a smooth working quintet that captured third place well ahead of the other schools. In the curtain raiser against a favored Central outfit South surprised the experts by nosing out the Rams in a hard-fought battle. At times during the season the Trojans displayed some fine basketball. All their games were hard-fought and no game was decided until the final whistle.

One outstanding game was the second encounter with Union, which was a decided contrast to their first meeting. Our boys showed superiority by breaking through the Red Hawks defense time after time. South had a slight lead going into the fourth quarter, and managed to maintain it until in final desperation Union hit the meshes with two swishers that took the game.

TRACK

The track team looked very promising at the start of the season. They started out with much veteran material in the field events, and many new boys were uncovered in the running events. They took Tech into camp in their first meet to the tune of 84½ to 19½ sweeping three events and taking all but two first places. In their next meet the Trojans showed power in easily defeating a supposedly strong Central squad, 77 to 27.

BASEBALL

The baseball team this season was hard hit by graduation. Coach "Jake" Brady lost the entire infield that went through the 1943 campaign, thus he was faced with a big rebuilding job. In the first two games against Ottawa and Christian, Brady experimented much, using all his players freely. South beat Ottawa nine to four, but lost to Christian nine to three. Next, At the right, behind the brilliant "no hit pitch- Art Schroeder ing of "Dutch" Stormzand South beat Catholic.

In the absence of Mr Lester DeKoster who is serving as an Ensign in the United States Navy, the tennis team started practice indoors during the last of March. Before they moved out-of-doors in April, "Pat" Patterson kindly consented to coach them.

With four members from last years squad and many promising newcomers, South's team ranked as one of the top teams in the city league.

CHEERLEADERS

These fellows kept the famed South spirit running high. They worked up pre-game enthusiasm during assemblies. The cheerleaders could be found at all the court and gridiron struggles, with their flashy uniforms adding sparkle and color to the occasion. So "hats off" to these fellows for the excellent job they did.

FOOTBALL MANAGERS

Nobody connected with athletics does more work and gets less credit than the football managers. Their work isn't done at the seasons end. After everybody else is through, these hard-working fellows can be found cleaning and storing equipment for the next year. They are indispensable to the team, keeping things running smoothly which is a great asset in the success of a team.

FACULTY ^{and} BASKETBALL MANAGERS

Mr. Harold Buckham and Mr. Oscar Schopmeyer, the only faculty managers, had a big job on their hands. Mr. Buckham arranged schedules, hired officials and handled the ticket sales. In the ticket sales he was assisted by girls at school, and by many members of the faculty at the game. Mr. Schopmeyer had the difficult task of keeping the eligibility records.

Working side by side with the faculty managers, the student managers were held responsible for all equipment.

Kneeling, D. Haggai, E. Swanson and B. Kazma. Standing, Mr. Buckham and Mr. Schopmeyer.

The Bars and Chevrons club this year experienced one of the most progressive years in its history.

The club, composed of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the R.O.T.C., met every Tuesday in room 203 for the purpose of discussing ways in which money could be raised to buy equipment for the officers. Among some of these activities were a hayride, and the Military Ball, which this year was held at Creston high school.

In the fall the club elected Arthur Sack, president; James Seino, vice-president; Marilyn Lustig, secretary; Vivien Vander Leest, treasurer, and Corporal Melvin Greicz, faculty advisor.

Always an important part of South, the R.O.T.C., Reserve Officers' Training Corps, became even more so after the outbreak of war. The drilling and the lectures became doubly interesting to the boys when they realized that military training might serve them well at some future date in the Army.

Approximately 200 R.O.T.C. cadets trained three days a week under Sergeant Melvin Greicz. This physical and mental training will not only benefit the boys in the Army, but also in civilian life.

In addition to their regular inspections and the annual Field day, as leaders in good citizenship at South, the cadets acted as hall guards during the lunch hour, helped gather scrap during the fall drive, and formed a guard of honor at the christening of the landing barges.

The Hi-Y organization is one of the most outstanding in South. A branch of the Y.M.C.A., the purpose of this club is to create and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. At present there are 25 members who meet at the Y.M.C.A. every Tuesday. After the meetings, they play pool, basket ball, or go swimming.

The officers for last year were as follows:

First Semester
Kent Esbaugh, president; Phillip Stirdivant, vice president; Robert Carrier, secretary; Roger Gosling, treasurer.

Second Semester
Phillip Stirdivant, president; Roger Gosling, vice president; Donald Berg, secretary; John Fishleigh, treasurer.

Here is a group of exceedingly busy girls who can boast a record of excellent patriotic activity for the past year. Their meetings, every Thursday, brought forth such special projects as the annual dance with the Hi-Y, scrapbooks, and rolled bandages for the Army and Navy. These girls have shown how cooperation in a high degree can bring about outstanding results.

Officers for the year were Velma Kling, president; Betty Bigford, vice president; Dorothy Dunn, secretary; Lois Watts, treasurer; Beyerly Armstrong, business manager; Mary Hyde, program chairman, and Miss Dorothy Williams, advisers.

The Camera club really "clicked" last year in spite of the shortage of films and other materials. The twelve members met every Friday after school in informal business meetings to learn to take better pictures, process films, make contact prints, and make enlargements.

The club, which was organized about 1936, continued last year showing monthly salons on assigned subjects and a final salon of the entire year's work. These salons were organized under the supervision of the club's officers: David Harmer, president; Charles Dutchess, vice president; Priscilla Hopp, secretary; Dorothy Hengst, treasurer and Miss Ruth Stokoe, faculty adviser.

The National Senior Honor society, first organized in 1924 has been one of the outstanding clubs at South High. Members of this society are chosen on standards that have been set up by the faculty and the society.

Last year the club was made up of fifteen members who met in the fall and chose Albert Lichteig, president; Emmett Connors, vice president; Lorraine Koch, secretary; Shirley Shief, treasurer; and Miss Elisabeth Knapp, faculty adviser.

The society held irregular business meetings the purpose of which was to raise the standards of leadership, scholarship, character, and service in the school, and to reward outstanding examples of these merits.

Since 1920 these brave people have been battling to promote franchise and speech projects. The thirteen active members, under the direction of Miss Noreen La Barge, met every day the seventh hour to debate such subjects as a League of Nations and juvenile delinquency.

The officers of the debate club were Ted Bouterse, president; Billye Noggles, vice-president; Eloise Oldt, secretary; Dorothy Norin, treasurer; and Miss La Barge, faculty adviser.

The annual Michigan High School Forensic Association contest aroused an unusual amount of interest this year.

The contest was held on April 21st, in South's auditorium. Four schools were represented: Ottawa, Union, South, and Benton Harbor Senior.

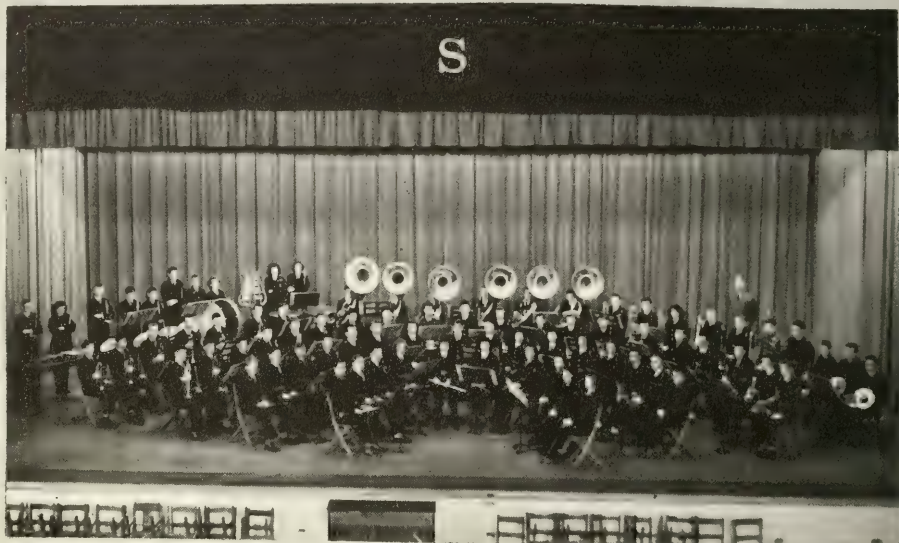

Entries from South were selected by Miss Helen MacLennan, Miss Dorothy Young, and Miss Elda Koehn, and coached by Miss Noreen La Barge.

The following students represented South in the competition: Arno Marsh, oratorical declamation; William Barnes, and Theodore Bouterse, extempore speech; George Goss, and David Dutcher, oratory; and Roger Gosling and Martha Bullock, dramatic declamation.

MUSIC WAR COUNCIL OF AMERICA

For distinguished service to our country through the patriotic and inspiring use of music, and the inherent effect of this activity on our youth to

South High School Band

Grand Rapids, Michigan

'I held at Grand Rapids the 10th annual assembly, 1942'

Presented by the Music War Council of America

The band swung smoothly through two semesters in 1943 and 44 under the expert guidance of Mr. Glenn B. Litton, director; James Seino, president; Richard Nebbling, vice-president; Mary Beth Hood, secretary; and Robert McDonald, treasurer.

The band played a popular and colorful part at football games, assemblies, and the spring concert, and showed patriotic spirit by participating in War Bond drives at Loyalty Square and Burton Heights, and took part in the barge christening ceremony at Garfield Park.

As a reward and in recognition of their war activities the band was given a citation for patriotism and service by the War Council of America.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Glenn B. Litton, organized early last fall and chose their officers. The forty-six members elected Norene Vandervelde, president; Robert Buell, vice-president; Margaret Van Ringlesteyn, secretary; Milo Levett, treasurer.

The orchestra was started years ago to provide musical entertainment for special occasions at school and in the community.

They met daily to practice music and prepare for special events such as the Bach festival, the Orchestra festival, the M.F.A. convention, the Spring concert, the senior play, and commencement.

The youngest group in the Y.W.C.A. is the Junior Girl Reserves, which was organized for the purpose of acquainting Junior high girls with good fun and Christian living, the principles of the Y.

The Junior Girl Reserves held meetings during the noon hour, after school on Thursdays to knit and plan their programs and parties.

The officers during 1943 and '44 were Grace Lyon, president; Doris Lyon, vice president; Marian Broder, secretary; Margaret Fisher, treasurer; and Barbara Barton, inter-club council representative. The advisers last year were Miss Dorothy Long and Mrs. Doris Schafer.

Row 3---B. Wing, B. Buttone, L. Luford, D. Welmers, R. Mendels, M. Bowman, B. Welmers, D. Butterworth.

The sixty five active members of the Senior Mixed chorus met daily under the direction of Miss Bessie Lindley. In this organization every student received thorough training in the fundamentals of singing, studying such things as correct breathing, tone placing, diction, and interpretation.

Included in the activities of the year were: the annual Christmas concert for the school and the public, and vocal programs for special events. War projects, consisting of patriotic songs for banquets and other meetings, were also presented.

A patriotic history assembly, "Our Democracy," was also given by the group. Included in this assembly were songs, speeches, and slides.

The seniors who were honored by membership in the Quill and Scroll club last year were Bruce Williamson, Pat Mc. Hoskey, Doris Hitchcock, Eleanor Sack, Martha Bullock, Winona Kimmel, Don Hill and Gordon Bramels; the members held monthly meetings during the noon hours and held special formal introduction ceremonies twice last year. Again last year as in the past, they sponsored the Quill and Scroll Creative Writing Contest and awarded a trophy to the student submitting the outstanding manuscript.

The El Casino, or Spanish club, was founded twenty five years ago, and since then it has progressed greatly both in activities and in membership. The club's purpose is to discuss and enjoy Spanish stories, poems, plays and songs, and to study the life and customs of the Spanish people.

The twenty five members of the club met on the third Wednesday of each month, and elected their officers early in the season. Kent Esbaugh was president; Bill Moyer, vice-president; Betty Bigford, secretary; Mary Pat Nicholson, Treasurer and Mr. Ludwig Swenson, faculty adviser.

The newly arrived "Southites" were welcomed in style and made to feel right at home last September through the orientation program, a semi-annual function, sponsored by the Junior Student Council.

This group of junior politicians was formed four years ago to encourage junior high leadership in self-government, and to give the younger students a chance to conduct their own social and civic programs. The council was headed this past year by Charles Lehan, president; Kay Brower, secretary; Leona Luxford, treasurer; and Misses Zelda MacNaughton and Dorothy Young, faculty advisers.

The council met every other Thursday in Miss MacNaughton's room to discuss, in strict parliamentary fashion, problems concerning the work in selling war stamps, T.B. stickers, and Red Cross buttons, in organizing an assembly for courtesy week, and in providing noon-hour amusement through game rooms.

Senior Student Council

1st row--- Mr. Buckham, B. Moyer, J. Litton, D. Dutcher, G. Moyer, D. Dunn, Miss MacLennan.
 2nd row--- M. Kimmel, D. Peterson, B. Bigford, B. Olsen, D. Cole, M. Grooters, K. Esbaugh,
 B. Williamson, L. Houtman, W. Kimmel, M. Van Ringelesteyn, M. Shaver, N.
 Johnson.

A "busy group of people" would very easily describe the Senior student council. They participated in school activities enthusiastically, sponsoring noon dances, pep rallies, assemblies, T.B. sales, and "The Witches' Whirl".

The council's special war activities included the sale of war stamps every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. When 90% of the students were participating in these sales, the school was presented with a Minute Man Flag by the treasury department.

Officers, chosen for the year were David Dutcher, president; Dorothy Dunn, vice president; Grace Moyer, secretary; Jo Ellen Litton, treasurer, and Miss Helen MacLennan and Mr. Harold Buckham, the faculty advisers.

 4th row---J. Mc Carthy, B. Barnes, T. Bouterse, H. Nyhuis, P. Kremers, M. Levett, D. MacDonald, M. De Bats,
 D. Wortman.

The Ushers' Club was responsible for South's orderly conduct in passing to and from assemblies and special programs.

The organization was made up of thirty six senior boys who chose Art Sack, president; Ray Moser secretary; Don Wortman, treasurer; and Mr. William Stevenson, faculty adviser.

The young ushers met only when a special problem, such as election of officers or special seating for an assembly, arose. The meetings were quite informal with the president presiding.

The Ushers' Club gave paddle pop sales to raise money, and a hayride for the entertainment of its members.

The Commercial Law Club, composed of members of the Commercial Law classes, has been organized in the past years for the purpose of discussing any interesting everyday problems concerning law which might arise, and for raising the necessary funds through various sales during the year. The club's meetings were not only interesting to all who attended, but educational as well.

Under the guidance of Mr. Elisha Fisher, faculty adviser, the club elected Velma Kling, president, and Paul Niles, secretary-treasurer.

Tattler

1st Row--- C. Byerholm, D. Hill, B. Williamson, L. Bradshaw, G. Brummels
 2nd Row--- W. Kimmel, B. Gates, B. Bigford, O. Park, Miss Anton, L. Roden,

 3rd Row--- B. Darc Angelo, L. Masse, N. Miller, E. List, D. Dunn, J. Litton, J.
 Watts, P. Osband, R. Frazee.

In the memorable year of 1915, South's first newspaper staff started printing the most treasured secrets of the unsuspecting students. At that time the name of the news sheet was the Pioneer, but later it was changed to the more appropriate name, "Tattler".

The staff does its work during the 7th hour five days weekly often staying many nights after school to finish copy. Among the forty-three scoopers are Bruce Williamson, editor-in-chief; Doris Hitchcock, Patricia McHoskey, and Jo Ellen Litton, feature editors; Don Hill, news editor; Lynn Bradshaw, assistant news editor; Ted Baloyan, advertising manager, and Lawrence Masse, business manager. The staff is under the supervision of Miss Thelma Anton, editorial adviser, and Miss Theone Conklin, business manager.

Spectra

1st Row---P. Stahl, M. Johnson, E. Sack, G. Walker, P. Burch, M. Bullock.

2nd Row---B. Olson, K. Esbaugh, D. Wright, C. Ruoss, D. Bailey, Y. Cylliers, Miss H. Williams, Miss E. Koehn,

G. Murphy, P. Perry, J. Meyen, D. Peterson, L. Gane.

Although the Spectra staff was faced with what looked like insurmountable war production difficulties last fall, a great many busy brains and helping hands ignored the difficulties and put out your yearbook.

None of the helping hands could have done a thing, however, without the suggestions of Miss Elda Koehn, production adviser; Miss Helen Williams, art adviser; and Miss Dorothy Williams, business adviser. Other busy brains were those of Eleanor Sack, editor-in-chief; Mary Ellen Johnson, senior editor; Patricia Stahl, faculty editor; Martha Bullock, organizations editor; Kent Esbaugh and Bob Carrier, co-editors of sports; Lillian Hesteran, underclassman editor; and Gwendolyn Walker, business editor. The willing workers are too numerous to mention.

- 3rd row--- F. Bergstrom, G. McCarthy, T. Boyterse, D. Berry, D. Dinkle, D. Johnson, B. Catlin, T. Russell, J. Wood, W. Jones.

Since Varsity club is made up of all boys who have earned a letter in one of the major sports, membership in it is a cherished honor.

After a boy earns his letters, he must earn his Trojan insignia through a stiff initiation which is held after school in the boys' gym.

Last year the club consisted of 40 members who met at 11:30 every Friday noon. At these meetings the boys elected Gordon Fessenden, president; Dick Norgrove, vice president; Bob Catlin, secretary; Andy Fotias, treasurer; and Tony Giamonna, sergeant at arms. Coach Jake Brady, was faculty adviser for the club.

In February the club presented its annual dance, the Trojan Trot, which, as always, was a great success. The society also gave money to the Community Chest and money to the Red Cross.

Archery Club

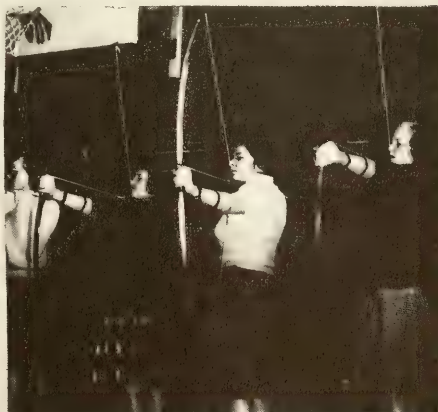

1st Row-- J. Jackson, L. Roden, F. Brummeler, C. Field

2nd Row-- B. Harte, E. Grant, G. Lyon, Miss Krumheuer, B. Hilferink, L. Austin.

Last year South was the only school in the city to have a girls archery club. This club, composed of 12 active girls was one of the many similar clubs all over the country who were members of the National Archery association.

In the fall only one veteran, Laura Austin who won the Bowman Award, returned to Archery Club. The other members started their practice by shooting at targets 5 feet away and working up to targets at a distance of 40 feet.

A very successful rummage sale was held by the girls, enabling them to buy new bows, arrows, and paid for the annual awards. The Archery Club played host to the J.C. Archery Association at an outdoor color tournament.

The Jr. Red Cross council made an impressive record for itself in 1943-44. Besides holding their annual enrollment campaign, they undertook many war projects that included sewing and art work for wounded soldiers, sending Christmas boxes overseas, and knitting squares for afghans.

The 40 active members met on alternate Fridays with Miss Agnes Linsley, adviser; James Seino, president; Jo Anne Wiles, vice-president; Josephine Monier, secretary; and June Tetzlaff, treasurer.

Home Room Council

1st row--- D. Nebbling, G. Moyer, P. Perry, G. Walker.

2nd row--- D. Norin, G. Goss, C. Van Dommelen.

For ten years seniors on the Home Room council have quietly and efficiently gone about the business of planning holiday programs, decorating the senior session room, and taking charge of the senior citizenship and scholarship drives. Last year they added such projects as selling Christmas seals and war stamps, and receiving donations for the War Chest and the Red Cross drives.

The officers chosen for both semesters were George Goss, president; Eleanore Sack, vice-president; Dorothy Norin, secretary; and Corrine Van Dommelen, treasurer. The faculty adviser was Mr. Percy L. Churm. Meetings were held every second Tuesday.

The Parent-Teachers association, led by Mrs. Gerrit Welmers, met the first Thursday in every month with the idea of promoting greater understanding between the parents and teachers.

Last fall, the P.T.A. held an open house at which the parents had an opportunity to see their children's classrooms and to become better acquainted with the teachers.

There were approximately 200 members in the P.T.A. last year, with the following ladies, serving as officers: Mrs. Gerrit Welmers, president; Mrs. Clarence Bradshaw, vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Marcroft, recording secretary; Mrs. Clayton Solomon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest Esbaugh, treasurer; Dr. Jean Gilliers, father vice-president; and Miss Dorothy Young, teacher vice-president.

On April 12, South high's aims in the War Bond Drive were realized. Through bonds purchased in school and with the help of the south, west, and east end merchants, 63 landing barges were purchased.

In the afternoon school was dismissed for the christening of six of these barges at Garfield Park. A parade was formed at the corner of Hall and Jefferson with the R.O.T.C., band, and different grades marching as a unit.

Mary Ellen Johnson served as Queen of the Barges with five attendants.

"Down at the Club Co-Ed" was the favorite saying heard voiced in every city school since the club was opened April 15. The second floor of the Manufacturers' Building was given a face lifting for two months before the dance floor, ping pong tables, pool tables, soda fountain and luxurious lounge were finished.

The club will serve as an experiment to help keep down the percentage of juvenik delinquency. Tickets were sold as memberships for 75¢; they will last six months.
